WHEN IS SENSELESS!

Dr. Isaac O. Fayomi

GREETING FRIENDS,

We live in a world where everyone can win, soar, and enjoy great exploit. I have often said nothing is impossible to achieve if we can think out of our natural or common sense. An exploit has never been a function of colour, race, gender, and tribe. Exploit in actual perspectives is a true function of mindset, individuality, and the ability to explore diversified opportunities beyond man's thought.

You see, the world is revolving, and we sell what is senseless! The world is evolving; we buy what is senseless. We are in an era where you build on the senseless idea, create senseless ideas, and transform senseless ideas into the ideal world. Friend, I am sorry to disappoint you; your old ways make sense but can't sell in that manner. Your old idea makes sense but can't fly in that format. Your old style is bigger but not better.

Senseless, in this view, means beyond comprehension, making raw you make something out of life. Senseless rebuilding what others thought is ridiculous. I mean things beyond imagination. Senseless in a way in which you pick what another thought is pointless and make the world see it as a point of reference. Many of us have what the world calls useless, which can be regenerated as useful. That is turning every wasteful resource into a wealthy place.

Folks, you have to sit up because no one is buying what is familiar, no one is buying what makes sense. People are not ready to listen to the old theory, the same old story. No one will invest in that common idea. Your proposal won't pass the receptionist's table. I told someone sometimes ago that sensible idea can't go beyond your room; it has to be senseless. You have to metamorphose your concept, make it reverse engineering process. You have to create from the unknown.

A young brother wants to submit a proposal at a time to a company for a call to work. And before going, he came to me to pray with him an evening to the day. After prayer, as I was rushing out for a summit, suddenly, I was prompt in my spirit to ask two silly questions. So, I quickly call him bro; let me ask you, first, what is new about what you are going to present to this client. Secondly, what idea are you giving them that they have not?

I looked at him, his countenance was changed, and I said beyond prayer, go and think about those questions. He went for the proposal defense, came back and said Sir, do you consult for the company before now, how do you know that is the question they will ask me? He was amassed.

The world is looking for a new way and not ways; the world is looking for a new idea, not ideas. Folk, we unfold the unknown through irrational thought. If it is like this, what will happen, ask yourself? If I do it differently, will it not be better?

People that create from a senseless world enjoy smart living. Beyond your certificate, what do you see, think of this? Beyond your career, and the paid job, what do you see? As a graduate, it was senseless starting my career as a cleaner, but I knew what I was doing.

Let me try to bring your thought together to a senseless world with day-to-day adventure with practical illustrations. I have a good friend who was a medical doctor and is a full-time gospel singer doing well. I have a colleague who had a doctoral degree and has never taught a day, doing foodstuff business.

Sincerely, to an ordinary man is pointless; he uses it as an advantage to him.

Have you ever asked yourself why Jesus idea was always creating upset and rejection by the Pharisees? They see him as someone throwing impossible to the law without seeing what Jesus is bringing on the table, which is the mercy wrapped amid Sabbath law. It was senseless to the Pharisees, how will you heal on the Sabbath day. But to Christ, he was redeeming and restoring human dignity to living, and His fame keeps spreading.

You can't make better lives with a common idea. You can't impact other lives with those common promises. "There is something special about every creature that is senseless; it is this senseless part that great achiever works on in ruling their world".

Do you remember the days of old cell phones? Someone somewhere creates that idea of that significant component called the phone. Sooner than we see, some group came up and said, this is too big and heavy, and they began to think of kicking the box away, and now we have androids. Do you remember the day we use chalkboards in our schools? Do you remember the days of the old television history in Nigeria in which by 10 pm the whole station has closed? Few year backs, the lecturer sent their manuscript for publication by the post office to a journal, and the target to becoming a professor was 20 papers in most cases. Should we continue in the old ways?

Nowadays, people build unimaginable things; create some unusual ideas by their thought beyond common sense. We have smartphones, smart houses on waters, and many more.

You win life to yourself when your ideas are senseless and not sensible. When it is sensible, it is common. Until people begin to call you to explain, you've not gotten there. People have to call you to come and explain how you get to this stage. They will have to plead to get the wisdom behind your idea. The world wants to see the uncommon mystery, something that baffles understanding.

Don't Live Regretting, Think Differently

Many leave their lives regretting. They wish they could have done better with their approach to life. They ask why I have not taken this step when I have these great privileges. They ask why questions such as why is it that I couldn't dare to dream, why is it that I couldn't dare to think beyond now. Friend, it is never too late to correct the wrongs. Regret brings about depression and self-oppression. It is time to wake up and move on. It is time to look beyond common sense and begin to think differently.

People who will be commanding exploit at will are transformational in their thought, restorer of old ideas, and repairer of an abandoned secret. The bible rightly put it well in Isaiah 58: 12

And they that shall be of thee shall build the old waste places; thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; and thou shalt be called, The repairer of the breach, The restorer of paths to dwell in

So, there are four things you need to learn to do if you truly desire great places in life

1. Start building

People who suffer much depression lack building culture. They don't see building capacity as essential. Build your family, build your career, and make your home. If you lost everything, you can't lose your home if it is well built. Build your spiritual life and develop your life until it becomes extraordinary. Until consistence building capacity becomes part of our core virtue, we can't enjoy clear value. Let people call you senseless, but start building all the old waste around you. Everyone has the opportunity to reform old waste, old ways, but only a few do. I know of a good brother in which all he does for a living is to reuse old metal scrap, old papers in offices, and old plastic bottles. The young man has a good number of employees under him that he pays. He sends his children to a good school that many can't afford. He was mocked at a time, how will a graduate be packing garbage all around, but now the mocker is now at his mercies. Don't care what people will say of you because they will always say something even if you are not doing anything, so start building.

The bible says in Hebrew 3:4 that for every house is builded by someone; but he that built all things is God. No one will build for you; start doing that for yourself. A great life is built!

2. Start raising

When ignite world started and we said we are geared toward grooming people of greatness and raising stars to ignite their world. Many see it as a waste of time and senseless, so they began to mock all we do from the onset, but to me, that was the vision delivered. Our responsibility starts with the Ignite discovery bulletin, which today goes to a good number of countries globally. Friend, the people you raise, is the success you've made. The greatest asset to invest in is humanity. Don't raise people who are already raised. Invest in people who need life to live! Create hope to the hopeless; create a new foundation of life to the lifeless. Raise the foundation of help to the helpless and let the battered begin to bear.

3. Start repairing

Friend, do you want to enjoy the best life? Then be a repairer. Value-adding begins with the right ways of living as a repairer. Be a repairer of your home, be a repairer of other people crack destiny. Help them fix it! It might be senseless of you wasting time and energy on other people's lives, but it is rewarding. A colleague of mine saw the way and energy I invested in my postgraduate students in shaping them, and he said, "My brother, stop killing yourself, these people will not remember you when they get their degree". I replied to him every repairer has a reward for his work, not from who he repairs always. There is nothing too much to give for loving your husband or wife because you both are life-changing repairers. I told my wife, God has given us the responsibility of being a repairer to each other. And that has settled us for life.

Let take some instance from another perspective; imagine you have a water outburst from your tank due to pipe fracture and the entire water gush out. When you return from work, you open your tap to flush, and nothing was coming out. What will you do? Sleep, pretend everything is okay? Absolutely no, isn't it. Imagine you have a flat tyre, and you said you want to keep driving the car. The truth is that you need a repairer, and you are a repairer to your generation.

4. Start restoring

I have discovered from the study that you don't restore what is perfect; you restore because of imperfection. Let me take my clue from scripture in Joel 2:25. And I will restore to you the years that the locust hath eaten, the cankerworm, and the caterpillar, and the palmerworm....

Folks, look for where things are not working yet, and begin to invest in there to make it work. Look for senseless things and begin to make sense out of it. Solve people's needs, and your need will always be met. See you at tops.
