ON YOUR WAY TO GREATNESS!

Prof. Isaac O. Fayomi

GREETING FRIENDS,

The world of greatness has no end, and in a real sense, is a journey. It is a journey without a destination. When you start pushing, you begin enjoying a level of greatness. When you stop pushing, you stop seeing greatness in the reality.

Let me try to elucidate what greatness is all about and how it looks in a precise representation.

Greatness is rising beyond limits to harness great opportunities. This implies that opportunities leading to greatness abound, but you can't experience it until you are ready to pass limits.

Greatness does not have a destination; it is a continuous journey of exploit provoke by positive push. The more you push, the more you begin to experience changes, levels, happenings, and exploits.

Greatness does not answer to prayer; it responds to a pressing forward before God's increase! Paul said Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended; but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before. Phillipian 3:13

The world of greatness goes beyond having a dream to finding yourself in the space of reality. Greatness begins from the mind and should be translated into reality, physicality, and a picture of proof.

You can't be great outwardly and not be great inside, but you can be great inside and not be great outwardly. Friend, it is not everyone who conceives great vision deliver it practically. The evidence of greatness must be seen and handle to be tangible.

Greatness, in other words, is assessing a level of distinction provoked by an act of consistency. Therefore, life of greatness is not as complex as many thought, but a commitment to common norms and terms to success guarantees greatness. People who are "ready" to pass through the threadlike path of a needle eye get smooth sailing into the world of greatness. Are you ready to push the push?

Friend, achieving greatness is good, but it has a great laydown pathway. Often than none, people desire greatness but don't want to pass the huddle to acquire it. The path to greatness is not complex, complicated, and confusing; all you need is willpower to follow the path. There is a place where greatness lies, but there is a walkway to it. Some persons take the steps and walk through the track, and the results keep showing. Some decided to stay on the defense, and others complained of what the encounter would look like.

No one was created without a seed of greatness by God, but not every man cultivates the seed of greatness given. God's part of the responsibility is to provide the seed; our part of the deal is to make the seed find expression into greatness. Therefore, it is often not enough to have a seed sowed but to grow the seed until you begin to see some levels of harvest, which is called the levels of greatness.

Isaac wanted to run to Egypt, where he thought the happening is happening. But thank God for divine orchestration; he stayed in philistine, sows in philistine, became great in philistine until they began to envy him.

Most of us thought our greatness would come from abroad, but an above reward system is what greatness gives if all rules have been followed.

Greatness in any endeavor requires sound obedient to the rule of engagement. If you are ready to follow the terms, your triumph into greatness will be seamless.

On your way to greatness

1. Stick to vision plan.

Everyman has inbuilt greatness that must find expression through a vision plan. However, few people stick to this plan for greatness to be achieved. On your way to greatness, you must stay focus with an undivided mind on your course. Friend, no one assumes greatness to achieve greatness; it is either you do what is require or not.

The evidence of greatness at all levels shows the route you follow. No shortcut to greatness ever ends well; follow smart ways and stick to a vision plan.

2. Turn obstacles into opportunities.

Since greatness is a destination with no ends, it is impossible to run away from boundaries, restrictions, confines, and borders. Nevertheless, it is great minds that turn hedge to edge, waste to wealth which greatness implies!

"I have once said; we have a price to pay, we have ways to pass, we have the rules to follow, if we desire to become great in what we do as a person and as a nation."

"You hardly see anyone wins over an obstacle without courage. Opportunities abound, but obstacles surround opportunity that makes greatness look hard to reach". It would be best if you did not give in because you are very close to arriving at a level of greatness.

Folks, there are boundaries by nature, borders by notion that must appear, and that we must conquer before we access the world of greatness. My prayer for you today is that you will grace to defeat them.

3. Have a larger mind-set

A glint of the price tag of greatness has made many stops from pushing forward. Someone once said that if this is what you pass through to become a professor, I don't want to be a professor. I laughed!

Friend, discouragement by people can kill great vision without a larger heart. So, a great man is a man who creates a room in his large heart to consume discouragement by people to enjoy greatness.

You must have a prepared heart, a mature heart to receive greatness when it comes; if not, the happening behind certain levels of greatness can be consuming.

4. Develop evolving energy level

The energy level in any endeavor is vital to the greatness we command. Any team aiming to win a champion league, for instance, will never play less of the best players and the coach's technical prowess because of the intensity of the event. Friend, our sense of seriousness, creates a sense of sovereignty, a sense of zealotness creates a sense of zenith, and our level of energy creates a level of exploits.

Let me give another example when we are growing up. We see National Electrical Power Authority then give us low current at home. They will tell us it can't power any electronic gadget, so we have to off all electronics until the required energy is gained. What that means is this; the power can't deliver the purposeful energy for transmission. In reality, though we have the seed of greatness, the needful energy disseminated most time to push us into greatness is low.

There are levels of energy that are needful from you; go and get it, go and fix it. Friend, there is this incident I will never forget in a hurry. I was traveled for ministration at Kogi with my Old Gulf 4, and immediately after Ibadan, I noticed that the car couldn't select gear again except gear one. I kept struggling on the road, and my time was going faster than imagine. I tried to push, yet the gear couldn't evolve until I found an auto mechanic repairer to fix it. We need to fix it today to feature in the future! We need to grow today to access greatness tomorrow.

5. Train your habit and attitude toward greatness

Altitude is a great deal in accessing greatness. Some people are poor, yet they hate when people talk about prosperity. Some people are struggling, yet they talk down on people who are succeeding. Greatness is an attractive currency. It is a genre taste for a genre takes! You attract what you appreciate. On your way to greatness, develop a positive attitude, have a habit of great minds.

You see, habit comes in different forms. For instance, poor time management, late coming to an event, money management, talkative, excessive sleep, etc. These little attitudes debar access to great altitude.

I learn the spirit of on time ever since I had an ugly experience. I went to a conference in the United States of America, and my returned flight to South Africa was through Delta airline. I got to prepare and stay back, enjoying reading in my hotel room. I got to the airport to know the flight was gone. For a while, I stood surprised, shattered, and confused. All my plans were disorganized, and I knew it was my fault.

An intelligent fellow ordinarily should command greatness at will, but their causal approach has cost them never to access great places at tops. How can someone want to catch a flight of greatness be causal about his or her life? I was left behind; I learn in a hard way!

“S” route to greatness

a) You can be SIMPLE and be SMART

Achieving greatness requires so much discipline, accountability, and integrity. Some wish to be great, but they have a bad approach to greatness. Our lifestyle toward greatness needs to be changed actually to see ourselves experiencing it. Most of us have spending habits, yet we collect peanuts, be less expensive. You can't be living big beyond your means and expect to experience greatness. Cut off the excesses. As a nation in Africa, we kept on struggling because of our political approach. We spend so much on electioneering, the system of government that we are running is taking us to the grave, not greatness, yet we are crying for a better life. We can be simple and be smart! Our dressing can be simple and be smart. Our approach to life can be simple and be smarter.

b) You can be SMALL and be SMART.

I took a look at Israel's history and philosophies, and I was amazed. Israel is one of the smallest countries globally with less natural resources and landscape, yet they are forced to reckon with globally. They are one of the leading countries with sound technology, both in medicine and engineering application to date. They are small, with no natural resources, yet they use their brain to break the gaps with amazing discoveries to better their people—what a smart, great nation with a small identity.

c) You can be SINCERE and be SMART.

Greatness means making use of the usual in an unusual way with an unusual touch! For instance, we have gotten some unusual leaders who use typical resources to better their nation and make it great. We have some individuals who have done exceptionally well for themselves in their endeavors. On your way to greatness, you will have to be sincere with yourself by using what you have to outsmart the present challenge. Sincerity is not a sign of weakness; it is a symbol of smartness towards greatness.
